Dear Teacher:

It is with great pride that we present the Virginia Stanford English Language Proficiency (SELP) Test. The Virginia SELP Test is the newest addition to the Stanford Suite of Products, one of the most respected achievement test series in the country.

Before we began the development of the Virginia SELP Test we researched the field of second-language assessment to identify what works, what does not work, and what was needed but was not currently available. Furthermore, Harcourt assembled a group of distinguished experts to serve as an Advisory Board during the development process. This Advisory Board consisted of experts in applied linguistics and second-language learning. The Advisory Board provided guidance for test content, item development, speaking and writing test design, and psychometric requirements for proficiency-level performance. With the help of this expert Advisory Board for English as a Second Language (ESL), Harcourt created a methodology and architecture to guide our development of ESL assessments. Therefore we believe that this edition is responsive to students' language-proficiency needs.

The Virginia SELP Test is structured to maximize flexibility. The test may be administered in its entirety, or administered by subtests on different days and times. Whatever your assessment needs, Harcourt can meet them with maximum reliability and validity.

We are eager to know what you think of the Virginia SELP Test series. Please take the time to write to us and let us know your opinions. Your input will help us to continue to improve our materials and make them more valuable for you.

Sincerely,

Harcourt Assessment, Inc.

Introduction

The Stanford English Language Proficiency (SELP) Test is the newest addition to the Stanford Suite of Products, one of the most respected achievement test series in the country. The SELP Test is a state-of-the-art assessment that addresses the unique needs of English Language Learners (ELLs) by modeling best testing practices and critical instructional standards.

The SELP Test's goal is to measure the English language proficiency level of students learning English as a Second Language (ESL) in the United States in oral and written language—listening and speaking, reading and writing skills. It can assist school divisions in meeting new federal requirements that ELLs participate in statewide on-grade level assessment programs.

The Stanford English Language Proficiency Test can be used in several ways: (1) as a screening test at the beginning of the school year to help determine instructional placement, (2) as an annual assessment to measure the yearly progress of students attaining English proficiency, and (3) as an indicator of program efficacy to determine whether ELL students are receiving the necessary instruction to meet challenging state standards as expected.

Stanford English Language Proficiency Test

The Stanford English Language Proficiency Test assesses the general ability levels of students in critical English language skills through the following subtests:

- Listening, Writing Conventions, and Reading—easy-to-administer multiple-choice tests
- Direct Writing—a free-response, writing activity
- Speaking—an individually administered set of performance tasks, scored by the examiner

Designed by Harcourt's ESL experts, and with valuable input from its Advisory Board, the Stanford English Language Proficiency Test incorporates attractive full-color graphics, different types of tasks and ways of scoring, appropriate vocabulary, and relevant topics which meaningfully engage and motivate ELLs to demonstrate their full potential in regard to both language proficiency and academic achievement.

After extensive research in the field of second language assessment, Harcourt has created a test uniquely tailored to ELLs and designed to meet the expectations of ESL professionals and school officials in the 21st century. Harcourt is proud to offer this new and most powerful ESL assessment that will deliver meaningful information to teachers, parents, and students.

The chart below shows the High School test level and the corresponding grades for this test level, the sections of the test, and the estimated testing time for each section.

Level/Grade	Sections	Estimated Testing Time*
High School 9–12	Listening	20
	Writing Conventions	20
	Reading	50
	Direct Writing	20
	Speaking	15

*The test is not timed, so these are suggested testing times for planning purposes only.

What the Stanford English Language Proficiency Test Assesses

The content domain or conceptual framework underlying the Stanford English Language Proficiency (SELP) Test is presented below.

■ Listening

The goal of the Listening subtest is comprehension of authentic conversational English. It is a group-administered, multiple-choice assessment. The focus of comprehension begins at the word level and proceeds to the sentence level and beyond to longer pieces of discourse. At the High School level, students listen to longer speeches and answer both oral and printed questions. Students also listen to scenarios and look at large graphics that depict the context. Students listen to short speeches and are asked to choose among small graphic response options to perform tasks. This process requires students to comprehend and synthesize the presented information.

■ Writing Conventions

The Writing Conventions subtest is a group-administered, multiple-choice assessment. It measures students' achievement in applying the principles that form effective writing. Its focus moves from spelling and usage, capitalization and punctuation, to word and sentence level understanding of English language structure. This subtest has a variety of tasks. Students are presented with words that contrast the vowels, consonants, and consonant clusters of English orthography. Students read and choose the English phrases and/or sentences that are grammatically correct. Students look at a picture and a set of words and choose the correctly spelled word. Students read and choose the correctly punctuated or capitalized English phrase/sentence.

■ Reading

The Reading subtest is a group-administered, multiple-choice assessment. It is a comprehensive and balanced reading assessment that includes measures in three areas: decoding, vocabulary, and comprehension. Before students can read connected words with fluency and good comprehension, they are taught strategies that will help them decode words they do not recognize on sight, thus allowing them to continue building their reading vocabularies. In the first section of the Reading subtest, which represents the most basic reading skills, the emphasis is on simple word and sentence comprehension at the High School level.

At the basic level of ESL instruction, the focus of instruction includes comprehension of printed material as well as vocabulary acquisition while continuing with training in conventions in print, decoding, and word recognition strategies that are critical for beginning readers. Within each level of the SELP Test is a graduated difficulty of texts, including more difficult vocabulary and longer passages, until the final passage, which is comparable to an on-grade text for native English speakers.

Reading Passages

In the second section of the Reading subtest, four longer passages are used at the High School level. Reading passages, consisting of narrative, informational, and functional pieces, were written by published authors of children's literature and were constructed to be accessible to second-language learners. The SELP Test reading selections closely resemble the kinds of materials students read in school and in everyday life. Illustrations help students focus attention on the task at hand, recall and activate prior knowledge, and set purposes for reading.

Reading Objectives

The reading objectives measured are initial understanding, interpretation, and vocabulary/idioms in context. The questions in the Reading subtest are designed to mirror the developmental, process-oriented nature of good reading instruction and the kinds of materials used in exemplary programs. There are questions designed to measure students' abilities to understand directly stated details or relationships and to measure students' abilities to extend meaning and to infer relationships among the ideas suggested by the text. There are also questions in which students must predict meanings of unknown words or idioms from clues in surrounding text that is known.

■ Direct Writing

The Direct Writing subtest is a group-administered, open-ended writing assessment. It goes beyond sentence-level skills and includes objectives that cannot be assessed with multiple-choice questions. These objectives include word choice that is precise and appropriate, sentences that are varied in structure and length, organization of sentences into paragraphs, and overall fluency. The Writing prompts employ graphics and text to elicit authentic student writing.

■ Speaking

The Speaking subtest is an individually-administered, free-response assessment. In order to elicit as large a speaking sample as possible, as well as a variety of discourse samples, the Speaking subtest addresses four important areas. After the student goes through a simple warm-up, the student repeats aloud a word, phrase, or sentence. The purpose is to assess accuracy, fluency, naturalness of speech rate and rhythm, and overall intelligibility. Next, the student listens to an oral stimulus and is asked to complete the sentence. A picture stimulus helps the student generate ideas for an appropriate response while the teacher reads the beginning of a sentence. Then the student is presented with a more complex task—storytelling. The speaker's ability to link ideas using more elaborate description is assessed. Additionally, accuracy of language, lexical items, and forms are measured. Finally, there is a section on social interaction. The student hears an utterance and then makes a single-sentence oral response (rejoinder). Sociolinguistic competence of the speaker is assessed in this section.

General Directions for Administering

The person responsible for administering the Virginia Stanford English Language Proficiency (SELP) Test does not need special training but must be able to carry out standard testing procedures. To ensure accurate and reliable results, the examiner should become thoroughly familiar with these procedures before attempting to administer the test.

Preliminary Planning

1. Familiarize yourself with the Directions for Administering (DFA). Do not look ahead in the test booklets to tests that have not yet been administered. That information is considered secure material. Examiners should review the DFA prior to the day of testing. This is not a secure document. The DFA for Listening and Speaking is secure.
2. Read and sign the Examiner's/Proctor's Test Security Agreement (Appendices A and B respectively). This security agreement requires that persons involved in the test administration exercise the necessary precautions to ensure the security of content and all test materials.
3. Take inventory of the materials you have received from the School Test Coordinator (STC). Refer to lists of materials required on page 11 of this manual. Be sure to fill out the School Test Coordinator's/Examiner's Test Booklet Transmittal Form/Affidavit (Appendix C) when receiving and returning test booklets throughout test administration.
4. Familiarize yourself with the Speaking Test Scoring Form located in the back of the student's response booklet. You will use this form to score the student's responses. Review the score point descriptions at the bottom of each section of the test. Read the Specific Directions for Administering the Speaking test thoroughly before administering the test to the students.
5. During an individual or group administration, it may become necessary for testing to be discontinued for an individual student with minimum English skills. The examiner must undertake the following steps.

First, the examiner must determine that the student is unable to answer the first five items of the initial subtest attempted; if so determined, the examiner should stop testing.

SAY Thank you for trying to answer those questions. We can stop now.

Second, in consultation with the STC or an ESL Specialist, the examiner should choose a second subtest and administer it to the student. The second subtest may be administered on the same day or on a different day from the first subtest.

SAY We are going to do something different. Please listen to the directions I tell you.

The examiner should administer the second subtest.

Third, if the examiner determines that the student is unable to answer the first five items of the second subtest, testing should be discontinued and no other subtests should be administered. The examiner should SAY Thank you for doing your best and trying to answer those questions. We can stop now.

NOTE

Section Z, Testing Status, is an optional field. To document for local use, you may complete Section Z, Testing Status, Circle 10, Testing Discontinued, for both subtests attempted. If used, Section Z should be completed after testing by an examiner or another adult.

6. Prepare your English Language Learner students for taking the test. Make sure that students are comfortable with the testing procedures when actual test administration begins.
7. Also, students may not be familiar with taking a speaking test and may be anxious about taking it. It is important to tell students that they should just do their best. Students should be encouraged to say as much as they can about a particular topic when appropriate. There are three warm-up questions for all Speaking test levels prior to actual test administration.
8. Make sure the physical conditions in the testing room are satisfactory. There should be adequate lighting for all students, and students should be seated so that there is enough space between them. If necessary, post a "Testing—Do Not Disturb" sign on the door. It is recommended that if the group is larger than an average-sized class, there may be a proctor for every additional twenty-five students.
9. Before the administration, the examiner should complete Section A or instruct the students to complete Section A in the response booklet.
10. Fill in the remaining information required on the back cover and the inside back cover of each student's SELP response booklet. Be sure to use a soft-lead (No. 2) pencil to code the information.

Directions for Coding Response Booklets

If you choose to have your students fill in the student demographic information, go to “Completing Student Identification Information” on page 14.

Materials Required by the Examiner

1. A copy of these Directions for Administering High School Level
2. A copy of the Listening and Speaking Directions for Administering High School Level
3. A supply of SELP High School level test booklets, including one for demonstration
4. A supply of SELP High School level response booklets, plus one for demonstration
5. A supply of sharpened, soft-lead (No. 2) pencils with erasers

Materials Required by Each Student

1. A SELP High School level test booklet
2. A SELP High School level response booklet
3. Two sharpened, soft-lead (No. 2) pencils and an eraser

Suggested Schedule for Administering

Harcourt suggests that three test sessions be used to administer the five subtests.

Although it is preferable to administer the subtests in the same order in which they appear in the test booklet, it is not required. The table on the following page shows the preferred order in which the subtests may be given and estimated testing times.

High School Level

Test	Approximate Preparation Time	Approximate Testing Time	Approximate Total Time
Listening	10	20	30
Writing Conventions	10	20	30
Reading	10	50	60
Direct Writing	10	20	30
Speaking *	10	15	25

* Individually administered

IMPORTANT NOTE

Times are included for planning purposes only. The SELP Test is untimed and is to be administered so that all students have sufficient time to complete it. The time allotment indicated for each subtest in the Directions for Administering should be adequate for many students. However, if necessary, additional time must be provided for a student to complete the test. Allow any student to have as much time as he or she needs to complete the test while working productively.

After Testing

1. Check students' response booklets to make sure that all erasures are complete and there are no stray marks.
2. Make sure the demographic pages on the back cover and inside back cover of each student's response booklet have been filled out.
3. Refer to your examiner's instructions to prepare materials for return to the STC.
4. Follow the directions in this manual in the section "Instructions for Preparing Documents for Scoring."

Specific Directions for Administering

All directions and test questions that you are to read to students are printed in boldface text. Read them exactly as they are written, using a natural tone and manner. If necessary, you may supplement the directions with your own explanations, but do not give help on specific test questions.

If you make a mistake in reading a direction or question, stop and say, “No, that is wrong. Listen again.” Then read the direction or question again.

Try to maintain a natural classroom atmosphere during the test administration. Encourage students to do their best and advise them not to spend too much time on any one question. Check periodically to make sure that students are recording their answers properly and are following instructions. This is especially important for subtests in which students are working on their own. See that students keep working until the end of each subtest, or as far as they can.

SPECIAL NOTE

To help students differentiate the subtests, subtest-specific icons are used at the top of the test booklet pages.

As you are helping your students find each subtest, you will explain to them what icon to look for: for example, a picture of headphones is used for the Listening subtest. The icons will also be readily apparent as you move about the room checking that students have turned to the correct subtest.

Make certain you have a copy of the Stanford English Language Proficiency Test booklet and response booklet for demonstration purposes. If you have chosen to have students fill in some of the identification information on their booklets, it may be helpful to have a facsimile of this part of the page drawn on the chalkboard, with information correctly entered except for the student’s name, gender, and date of birth.

SPECIAL NOTE

If your division ordered Pre-ID labels, follow instructions as directed by your STC. Pre-ID labels should be placed horizontally within the dotted box on the back side of the response booklet. (Appendix D)

Completing Student Identification Information

Machine-scorable response booklets may be processed with almost 100 percent accuracy if they are marked properly and kept in good physical condition. Remind students to handle their response booklets with care; to record their answers with heavy, dark marks; and to avoid making extra marks on the booklets.

Be sure that all desks or tables are cleared of books and other materials not needed for the test. See that each student has two sharpened, soft-lead (No. 2) pencils and an eraser. Before distributing the response booklets,

SAY Today we will be doing some interesting activities. What we do will help me to know how well you have learned the things we have been working on and what things we need to spend more time on. Some of the activities will be easy for you and some will be harder. Do not worry about the ones that seem hard—just do the best you can and enjoy the activities.

This is an answer sheet. (Examiner holds up a copy of the response booklet.) I will give one to each of you. Leave it closed until I tell you what to do.

Distribute the Stanford English Language Proficiency Test response booklets with the back covers (demographic pages) facing up. If you have already completed the student identification information, turn to page 16 and begin reading where you see the asterisk.

SAY We will fill out some of the information on this page. In Section A1, find the line labeled “Student Name.” Carefully print your last name, then your first name, and then your middle initial.

Give help as needed.

SAY Now, on the other lines, fill in the rest of the information asked for—teacher, school, school division, gender, grade, your date of birth, and test date. For test date, write the month, day, and year. (Examiners should specify the month, day, and year.) Does anyone have a question?

NOTE: You may expand on this instruction to clarify the information students are to fill in on the lines of the demographic page.

Answer students’ questions. Refer them to the chalkboard if you have written identification information there. While students are filling in the information, walk around the room to see that they are following instructions. Give help as needed. When all students have finished,

SAY Do not mark in any boxes except the ones I tell you to mark. Some of the boxes may be left blank. In Section B, find the box which contains areas labeled “Last Name,” “First Name,” and “MI.” In the area labeled “Last Name,” print your last name in the boxes at the top of each column. Begin in the left-hand column, and write only one letter in each box.

Give help as needed. When all students have finished,

SAY Now, in the area labeled “First Name,” print your first name in the boxes at the top of each column. Begin in the left-hand column, and write only one letter in each box.

Give help as needed. When all students have finished,

SAY In the column labeled “MI,” print your middle initial in the box at the top of the column. Does anyone have a question?

Give help as needed. When all students have finished,

SAY Now, fill in the matching circle beneath each letter in your name. Be sure you fill in only one circle for each letter. Does anyone have a question?

Give help as needed. After students have finished,

SAY Now find Section C, which is labeled “Date of Birth.” In the area labeled “Month,” find the circle for the month of your birthday and fill it in.

After students have finished,

SAY The next area is labeled “Day.” In the boxes, write the date on which you were born, putting one number in each box. For example, if your birthday is between the 1st through the 9th of the month, you would write a “0” in the first box and the correct number in the second box. Does anyone have a question?

Answer all questions. When everyone has finished,

SAY Now beneath each box, fill in the circle that has the same number as you wrote in the box.

After students have finished,

SAY The next area is labeled “Year.” Under the shaded box, fill in the circle next to “19.” In the white boxes, write the last two digits of the year in which you were born. Then fill in the circles for these two digits.

Give help as needed.

SAY Now find Section D, which is labeled “Gender.” Fill in the circle next to “Female” if you are a female, or the circle next to “Male” if you are a male.

When students have finished,

SAY Now find Section E, which is labeled “Race/Ethnicity.” Fill in the circle next to the best description of your race or ethnic background. Raise your hand if you have a question. Fill in only one circle.

Race/Ethnicity Guidelines Table

RACE/ETHNICITY	GUIDELINES
American Indian or Alaska Native	A person having origins in any of the original peoples of North and South America (including Central America) and who maintains cultural identification through tribal affiliation or community recognition.

Native Hawaiian/ Other Pacific Islander	A person having origins in any of the original peoples of Hawaii, Guam, Samoa, or other Pacific Islands.
Unspecified	A person having a multi-ethnic background who does not identify with one of the other groups listed above.

Answer students’ questions. If students have a multi-ethnic background, they may fill in the “unspecified” circle, or if they object to completing this section, do not insist that they complete it. Section E may be left blank.

SAY Now find Section F, which is labeled “Grade.” Fill in the circle with the number of your grade.

Give help as needed.

If the “Local Use #1,” “Local Use #2,” and/or “Student Number” sections are being used, modify the following instructions accordingly; otherwise,

SAY Do not mark in any of the sections that are labeled with the letters A2, Section F/Circle T, and G1 through BB. Do you have any questions?

When students are finished, and before distributing the test booklets,

SAY I will give you each a booklet. Leave your booklet closed until I tell you what to do.

Distribute the test booklets. Continue with the directions for administering for the first subtest.

SAY Stop. Put your pencil down. Now look at number 2.

Make sure all students are on the page with Writing task number 2 at the top of the page.

SAY

2 Directions: There are different activities you can do at school. Look at the pictures. How are they the same? How are they different? Why would a person like one of these better than the other? Give as many reasons as you can.

You may begin now.

When all students have completed answering Writing task 2,

SAY Stop. Put your pencil down. This is the end of the Writing section.

If this is your last testing session, collect both the test booklets and the response booklets. Remember to complete the after-testing procedures.

After Testing

Coding of Student Demographic Information

Refer to Appendices D and E for copies of the demographic pages as you review the coding information. You or another adult must complete Sections A2, G1, G2, H, I, L, R, S, Z, and AA of the response booklet's demographic pages for all students for whom these special codes are applicable and wait until testing is complete to do so. The accuracy and completeness of these special codes are critical for timely processing of student answer documents.

■ Section A2 – Enrollment Date

This section is optional.

The STC will provide you with any necessary instructions for completing Section A2, Enrollment Date.

If your division has ordered Pre-ID labels with the STI, the 10-digit number will be printed on the Pre-ID label.

Therefore, it is not necessary to complete this section in the response booklet. However, if the STI is not carried in the Pre-ID electronic file, it must be hand-entered in the response booklet. To obtain the STI for your students, consult with the division's EIMS Project Manager.

NOTE: If the STI is not carried in the Pre-ID electronic file and Section G2 is blank in the response booklet, an alert will occur. Harcourt will contact the DDOT for resolution.

■ Section H – Local Use #1 and Section I – Local Use #2

Section H

LEP Status Codes

In section S, complete only one of the six LEP status codes that identify the student's level of services as of October 1st or thereafter of the current school year. The LEP student status codes are defined as follows:

1 = Receiving Services

2 = Monitor Status – 1st Year

3 = Monitor Status – 2nd Year

4 = NOT Receiving Services

5 = Leave Blank (not applicable)

6 = Leave Blank (not applicable)

LEP Level for High School Grade Level

Based on the student's placement level classification for the 2006–2007 school year, students at the High School grade level may be identified as Proficiency Level 1, 2, 3, or 4. LEP students in grades 9–12 who are classified as English Language Proficiency Level 1, 2, 3, or 4 must take all four subtests (Listening, Speaking, Reading, and Writing) of the SELP Test. Students on Monitor Year 1 or 2 Status are required to take only the Reading and Writing subtests of the SELP Test.

Complete the LEP level if the student has a status of 1 or 4. Based on the student's English language proficiency placement classification as of October 1st or thereafter of the current school year, complete proficiency level code 1, 2, 3, or 4.

The table below lists the Disability Status Codes to be used in completing Section V, Disability Status, in the student's response booklet.

Use the following Disability Status Codes to complete Section V for any student who is identified as having a disability. Use categories 1–14 and category 16 for students who are eligible for services under the Individuals with Disabilities Education Improvement Act of 2004 (IDEIA) and who have IEPs. Use category 15 for “otherwise qualified handicapped” students who are eligible for services under Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973.

Additional Definitions/Explanations for Coding Testing Status

Circle 4

- Medical Emergency – Students who are eligible for this category are those who are absent for the entire testing window due to hospitalization or serious illness, as well as those who become ill while testing and who are then absent due to illness during the make-up period. Significant medical emergencies must be documented by a medical doctor. This documentation must be maintained locally in the division files.

Circle 10

Testing Discontinued

- For students with minimum English skills, conduct the following steps to determine if testing should be discontinued: (1) The examiner should first administer one of four SELP subtests (Listening, Speaking, Reading, Writing). (2) If the student is unable to answer the first five items of the first subtest attempted, the examiner should stop testing. (3) In consultation with the STC or an ESL Specialist, the examiner should choose another subtest and administer it to the student. The second subtest may be administered on the same day or on a different day from the first subtest. (4) If the student is unable to answer the first five items of the second subtest attempted, then testing should be discontinued.

Section Z, Testing Status, Circle 10, Testing Discontinued, should be completed for both subtests attempted. Circle 10 should be completed by an examiner or another adult only if instructed to do so by your DDOT/STC and after all procedures have been followed as outlined above.

Section AA – Special Test Accommodations

This section is optional.

This section should be completed by the examiner or another adult. Certain students with disabilities and students identified as LEP may receive testing accommodations. Only those testing accommodations that are specified in the IEP or 504 Management Plan for students with disabilities or on the LEP Participation Plan may be used. Complete Section AA, Special Test Accommodations, if any testing accommodations are used. Complete all accommodations that apply. Accurate coding of this section is critical. If an accommodation is completed, the student's primary disability and/or LEP status must also be completed unless it is carried on the Pre-ID file.

Refer to Appendix G that indicates the specific testing accommodations corresponding to the numbers shown in Section AA, Special Test Accommodations.

Read-Aloud Accommodation:Allowed

LEP students with a disability and who have an Individualized Education Plan (IEP) that requires a read-aloud accommodation that is not due solely to his or her limited English proficiency are allowed the read-aloud accommodation on ELP assessments.

Not Allowed

Students who are identified as LEP but who do not have a disability are not allowed the read-aloud accommodation on any part of the ELP assessment.

Section BB – RP Code

Do not complete—not applicable.

IMPORTANT NOTE

Make sure that you have a response booklet for every student and that all demographic information is completed as directed.

Instructions for Preparing Documents for Scoring

The following directions will help you prepare your students' documents for scoring by Harcourt Assessment, Inc.

Inspecting the Completed Documents

Inspect each document carefully, paying particular attention to the following points:

1. Inspect all documents for improper marks. All marks to be read by scanners must be very dark. Marks made with ballpoint pen, felt-tip pen, or hard or colored pencils will not be scored properly. Darken all light marks with a soft-lead (No. 2) pencil, and make sure all erasures are complete, but DO NOT ALTER THE STUDENTS' RESPONSES IN ANY WAY.
2. Be sure that only one circle is marked in each alphabetical column in Section B, Name.
3. Check to see that Section C, Date of Birth, is complete and accurate.
4. Check to ensure that Sections A1, B, C, D, E, F, G2, L, R, and S are completed as outlined in the coding directions.

Organizing the Documents

1. Complete SIDE 1 and SIDE 2 for the Scoring Service Identification Sheet (Appendix F).
 - a. On SIDE 1, enter the information on the upper right-hand corner. Complete the Grade, School Name, and Number of Documents.
 - b. On SIDE 2, completely darken the circle at the top of the page. Enter and complete the Group Name. The School Code and Group Code sections should be completed only according to local instructions.
2. Follow these instructions to organize testing materials.
 - a. Separate used forms from the unused forms.
 - b. Stack the forms as follows:
 - The SSID Sheet should be placed on top of the stack.
 - Used scorable response booklets
 - Used test booklets
 - The base of the stack should be the unused test forms.
